

A New Standard of Accountability

Auto Service Advocates was born from my decades of experience in the Automotive Repair Business, combined with a burning desire to fix a broken system. The lack of oversight and trust in the Industry has gone on for too long. Our layered system of checks and balances holds repair shops accountable and brings with it a new standard of accountability.

It's time to try something different.