

A New Standard of Accountability

Auto Service Advocates was born from my decades of experience in the auto repair business, combined with a burning desire to fix a broken system. I had seen too many customers feeling taken advantage of and I knew something had to change. I formed Auto Service Advocates to do just that.

Our innovative system of checks and balances holds repair shops accountable and brings a new standard of trust & accountability to an industry that has lacked it for so long.