

A New Standard of Accountability

Auto Service Advocates was born from my decades of experience in the Automotive Repair Business, combined with a burning desire to fix a broken system. The lack of oversight and trust in the Industry has gone on for too long.

It's time to try something different.

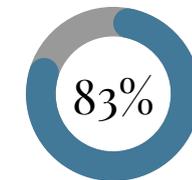

Trust in the Auto Repair Industry is on the Decline.

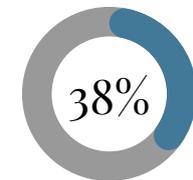

Women don't trust their repair shop

Consumers experienced untrustworthy mechanics

Consumers believe they've been charged unfairly

Consumers say they don't trust their car repair shop